

Career Entry: Consultant Transfer Pricing & Tax (Start September/October 24)

Location: Zurich

Work Pattern Percentage: 80-100%

Our Transfer Pricing & Value Chain Alignment Team is looking for you!

Our Team offers integrated advisory services that help our clients optimise and align their business structures with their transfer pricing policies and engage in efficient and compliant tax management throughout their value chain. From day one, you receive the opportunity to work in a client-facing role on projects in key industries. You will support our Swiss team (either in Geneva or Zurich) in providing transfer pricing services to our clients by applying a mix of economics, finance, accounting, international tax and legal concepts.

How you can make an impact

- Review, understand and assess the value chain and cross-border operations of multinational companies (e.g. flow of products, services, intellectual property)
- Participate in the development of concepts for optimizing existing business models as well as subsequent implementation of such models on a global basis
- Perform complex economic and financial analyses (e.g. valuation, credit rating, benchmarking)
- Prepare transfer pricing documentation, review and design transfer pricing policies and support corporate clients in transfer pricing projects management and implementation

Who we are looking for

- The ability to analyse complex problems and to develop and communicate solution options
- A master's degree in economics, accounting, business, finance, or Swiss law and eventually an initial internship experience
- A willingness to travel
- You communicate confidently in English and German. Any further languages would be an advantage

Your team
